unbidden tear dropped from one of eyes yesterday on learning that our contemporary, the Rosario Reporter, suffered from defective circulation a fortnight ago. And we did not know a word of it. Such is life.

ditions are still going ahead at home. The contemporary says:—The employment of women in Government offices is rapidly progressing. The Post Office is busy, and now the War Office is in requisit. A few weeks ago there were only seven women clerks in that department, and there are twenty, and it is proposed to bring the number up to forty. It seems every reason to suppose that the movement to which the strikes and rationing of strikes among men has given impetus will extend to all the Mariano Varela has taken up the cause of the imprisoned lottery men, and has convinced the state lottery commission to give all 256 men released on bail. The state lottery commission's supply of lottery tickets has become scarce, due to the great grief of thousands of fools who buy them; still there are to be had by those who know how to look for them.

It destroys insects, and the potash an excellent manure.

"Jorgue" is to be built at once at the of the Riachuelo.

Rosario tram companies have taken issue on the "poor feet" of the pon and resumed running till the municipality decide whether they can afford their fares or not. The Anglo-Argentine line has not joined in the humane sentiment and is still waiting for the Montevideo Times says:—"Various reports have been afloat respecting the case in favour of this country alleged to have been found in a 'special account' at Larings. At first it was stated at £100,000, then it dwindled to £50,000, and is said to be £30,000. No official statement on this head has yet appeared."

The Mail of New York says:—"All groups and indications are for a very exodus to Europe this spring and summer. The 'prominent people' booked to sail makes a list as long as 'arm and twice as interesting.' The National Labour Office has employment for all sorts of people—nurses, draughtsmen, cooks, tanners, joiners, sail makers, farmers, families, day labour-humane citizens will back up the Zoos in their reiterated protests at the poisoning of dogs in the streets. It is a most cruel and dangerous practice, and the wonder is that the Municipality and police seem quite indifferent to the public protest against it.

The soldier-murderer Perez was shot early morning at Palermo, at 8 o'clock. The troops that paraded were two regi-of Artillery, four of Infantry, one Cavalry and the Military Cadets. General was commanded. Before the condemned man's eyes were bandaged he addressed a few words of farewell in a firm voice to men of his regiment, the 2nd of the 1st, eight men of which formed the firing line. He fell dead at the second volley. The troops then marched quick step past the corpse and the sad affair was at an end. The civilian assassins could be dealt with the same short, sharp, decisive and just
